Global Data Mining, LLC

Turning trade data into information you can use

Do you have the critical information you need to measure performance and identify risks associated with your importing operations? Inadequate oversight can lead to non-compliant trade activities, increased government scrutiny and costly penalties. The Chief Financial Officer of a recent client described his import operation as “a big black hole,” lacking the information he needed to effectively assess risk and improve operations.

The US government compiles 7501 Entry data on all of your import transactions and offers it in the form of Importer Trade Activity (ITRAC) data. However, importers find this data difficult to use because of its complex formatting.

GDM solves this problem with I-TRAC Professional™. A select group of industry-wide experts helped define the information most critical for managerial oversight of import activities. Our clients receive organized data that can be analyzed to reveal areas prone to unacceptable risks, thus empowering management to ask critical questions and dig deeper for answers.

I-TRAC Trade Professional™ provides functional, practical information with over 30 different fields of views, including:

Operational Overviews	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Annual summaries by entity, duty value, and average duty rates• HTS classification sorted by value• Spend analysis by supplier and by country
Red Flag Analysis	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Same Classification/Different SPI Program• Same Supplier/Different SPI Program• Country of origin different than supplier country
Performance Analysis	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Port of Entry and Filer statistics• Transit days between Arrival and Entry dates, sorted by filer and by carrier

With I-TRAC Professional’s organized data, irregularities and risks may be revealed and analyzed. For example: Why are identically classified goods purchased from the same Mexican factory receiving NAFTA treatment only 56% of the time? Why are some entries being handled by unauthorized brokers? Why has your overall duty rate increased by 22% in the last year?

It’s easy to order I-TRAC Professional™ and usually takes less than 5 weeks to get this organized information into your hands. Take control of your international trade data.
